DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 29 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 29 recites in the body of the claim for a "data fragment comprising" that is merely data structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Doshi et al U.S. Patent Number 6,055,242.

Re claims 25, 28, fig. 1 teaches HE 120 (headend) for distributing downstream data downloads to a plurality of users 140 (s); HE BW manager 127 (a time slot allocation controller) for allocating user specific TDMA in response to request received from the end users (See fig 13B and col. 14, lines 46-56); further teaches plurality of cable modem 140(s) each associated with allocated bandwidth and encoded the data and fitting (fragmenting the data) the encoded data into the time slots in accordance to fig. 5 (See col. 8, lines 12-40).

Re Claims 26, 27, refer to Claim 25, wherein the incremental request in the BRF 1356 is a bandwidth request for additional time slots wherein incremental request is inherently requested for data not transmitted.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-24 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

As prior art U.S. Patent Number 6,055,242 teaches the BFC control field by the cable modem to request for bandwidth the BW manager of the headend, prior art fails to teach as recited in Claims 1 and 17, comparing the requested amount of bandwidth with the granted amount of bandwidth and fragmenting the data packet into a plurality of portions if the request amount is larger than the granted amount.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Andrew Lee whose telephone number is 703-305-1500. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday from 8:30AM to 6:00PM.
